

PROFIT BY THIS.

Don't Waste Another Day.

When you are worried by backache, by lameness and urinary disorders—Don't experiment with an untried medicine.

Follow Brattleboro people's example. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Brattleboro testimony.

Verify it if you wish:

Rex Benson, prop. of harness store, 40 Elliot street, Brattleboro, says: "Kidney trouble in my case began with sharp pains across my back and hips and whenever I caught cold, I became so lame and sore that I could hardly get about. I finally commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Brattleboro Drug Co., and they helped me from the first. Before long they removed every symptom of the trouble and made me feel better in every way."

USES DOAN'S OCCASIONALLY.

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER, Mr. Benson said: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and always get good results."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Benson has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

VERMONT ACADEMY'S
40th ANNIVERSARY

Commencement Week Opens Saturday—
Graduation Address Tuesday by Rev. Arthur H. Bradford.

Vermont academy will celebrate its 40th anniversary during Commencement week, which opens with the senior promenade in the gymnasium next Saturday evening. Hundreds of invitations have been sent to residents of Saxtons River, Bellows Falls and to graduates of the academy.

Sunday morning in the Baptist church, the Baccalaureate will be preached by one of the faculty, who is also pastor of the church—Rev. Wesley H. Desjardins. Sunday evening in Memorial chapel the vesper service will have as speaker Rev. George E. Tomkinson of Brattleboro.

Monday at 10.30 in Fuller hall will be the annual debate for the Barrett prizes. Hon. John Barrett, 84, director of the Pan-American Union, maintains these prizes. They are awarded to students who excel in public debate. This year's debate is on "Resolved, That the United States Have Government Owned Merchant Marine." The affirmative side will be taken by Thomas H. Griffith, 17, of East Dorset, and Norman A. Wright of Grafton; the negative by Bruce N. Coulter, 16, of Bridgeport, and Bertrand M. Lewis, 18, of Waterbury, Conn.

At 3 the same day in Wilbur Memorial library will be held the class day exercises. From 5 to 8 class reunions will take place.

At 8 in Fuller hall, the Fuller contest in elocution, the prizes being established by the late Gov. Levi K. Fuller of Brattleboro, will be held. Tuesday, June 13, the graduation exercises will be held in Fuller hall. The address to the graduation class will be by Rev. Arthur H. Bradford of Rutland, and the award of prizes by Principal George B. Lawson, followed by the presentation of diplomas to the following: David Adler of Atlantic City, Harry B. Bowman of Brattleboro, Daniel W. Carr of Brattleboro, Bruce N. Coulter of Bridgeport, Elmore D. Croft of New Haven, Winsor H. Cushing of Philadelphia, Russell C. Foster of Holden, Mass., Bradford C. Godfrey of Bennington, William W. Groat of Fitchburg, Mass., Harry W. Hersum of Kendall Green, Mass., John W. Stickleay of Ludlow, Norman A. Wright of Grafton.

At 12 is the annual business meeting of the alumni; at 1.30 in Proctor hall the alumni luncheon; at 3.30 the annual baseball game and at 8 the senior reception.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH.

Dedication Took Place at St. Johnsbury Yesterday—Cost $90,000.

ST. JOHNSBURY, June 5. — On Sunday the new Grace Methodist church was dedicated by Bishop John W. Hamilton of Boston, assisted by the pastor, Rev. George A. Martin, the presiding elder of the St. Johnsbury district, Rev. Ralph E. Lowe, and the former pastors of the church.

The services of dedication began Friday night with a banquet in the assembly room of the church served by Grace Unity club. Bishop Hamilton preached twice on Sunday, the dedication proper coming at 7 in the evening. This afternoon in the church he spoke to the children and this evening will deliver a lecture. On Tuesday the church will be thrown open to visitors when a committee, headed by the pastor and his wife, will welcome all to the new church. In the evening a recital will be given on the new pipe organ by Frank Cram of Lenoir, N. H. Special attention will be paid to Sunday school work Wednesday, when Dr. L. O. Hartman of Chicago will lecture on the Sunday Schools Around the World. Brotherhood night, Thursday, will close the week's program. That evening Gaylord S. Douglas of Wilbraham academy, Wilbraham, Mass., will speak on Men and the Church.

The new building with all its lot and equipment represents a cost of $90,000. It is built of Vermont marble with trimmings of Hardwick granite. The auditorium with inclined floor and circular pews has a seating capacity of 900. The Sunday school room is arranged in accordance with the most modern ideas of Sunday schools, with separate rooms for the different classes.

In the basement is an equipped boys' room, a large and well fitted up kitchen, a serving room and an assembly room with a seating capacity of 400. Beautiful memorial windows adorn the edifice. The church is largely furnished by present and past members, memorials to deceased workers of the church.

Grace church parish numbers approximately 1,800. The church membership is 463, and the Sunday school 655. The new building takes the place of the one burned in January, 1911. It is one of the oldest church organizations in St. Johnsbury, having been organized in 1856. The first church building was dedicated in 1859 and represented a total cost of $5,000. Twenty-four years later the church was rebuilt.

ST. JOHNSBURY, June 5. — The trouble between the Boston and Maine railroad and section men, over wages and hours of work, which was believed to have been adjusted last week, has assumed a new phase and it is said that only about 10 men are at work between Sherbrooke, Canada, and Ely, a station in the town of Fairlee. Most of the trouble is said to center around Bradford. It is alleged that men who have been secured to replace the strikers have been intimidated.

Deputy Sheriff M. T. Garfield of St. Johnsbury was sent to Bradford yesterday to act as a body guard for men who made an inspection of the block signal system between Bradford and Ely. Deputy Garfield made the round trip of 25 miles with the signal men on foot. There was no attempt made to annoy the men guarded by the officer.

It is claimed that a former section boss named Amel, who had been employed about 12 years and who has joined the strikers, is active in leading the strikers. It is reported that three lamp lighters employed on the signal system were threatened with physical injury.

VERMONT CADETS IN CAMP.

Norwich University Troops at Fort Ethan Allen.

BURLINGTON, June 5. — Three troops of Norwich university cadets are in camp at Fort Ethan Allen. They were accompanied there by train by the Bethel detachment of 22 men, which has been drilled each week by an officer of the university. One troop of mounted cavalry left Saturday afternoon and camped over night at Waterbury.

The cadets will be in camp 14 days, 10 for camp practice and four for rifle practice, in command of Capt. David H. Bidle, U. S. A., of New York, inspector and instructor of cavalry. Two troops of the 2d United States cavalry are in camp with the cadets.

NORTHFIELD, MASS.

SEMINARY COMMENCEMENT.

Anniversary Sermon, Sacred Concert and Other Features.

The auditorium was well filled Sunday morning for the anniversary sermon of Northfield seminary commencement week. W. B. Moody, president of the board of trustees, directed the service. On the platform with him were Dr. G. Glenn Atkins of Providence, R. I., who preached the sermon, Dr. H. C. Mabie of Boston, P. B. Keith of Boston, G. S. Palmer of New London, Rev. F. W. Patterson, Principal C. E.

Dickerson, A. G. Moody, Rev. Mr. Torrey of Providence and other members of the board of trustees of the school. The invocation was given by Mr. Keith, the scripture read by Rev. Mr. Torrey, followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Patterson. The Eury chorus sang Christ, Our King, and Mrs. G. S. Palmer sang Come Unto Me.

Dr. Atkins took his text from Luke 18, verse 8, "When the Son of Man cometh shall he find faith in the earth?" He said, in part: "The first principle involved is that without faith it is impossible to withstand our experiences. All divine transforming things come through the world of faith. How often truth has come into the world and all have said 'I don't believe it.' This morning we have the picture, Behold I stand at the door and knock. Would Christ find people ready to have him make their lives useful, loving and gentle? The door is grown over with weeds and rust, and love is shut out. Now, what do we ask of you? We ask you to believe all revelations from God. So many do not believe and call themselves practical people. They say we cannot make the world better because human nature is what it is. Oh, in the name of God believe in better things. The darker the day grows the more believe in the world. Work with and for good. We are not often asked for the great things of life, but out of many little things the great things come. The benediction was pronounced by Dr. Mabie.

In the afternoon on Round Top a meeting of the present and former students of the seminary was held. Many told of the benefit the school and its influence had been to them in their lives.

At 7.30 o'clock Sunday evening at Russell Sage chapel a vesper service was held with special singing by the vesper choir. Dr. Atkins gave an address.

Monday is Alumnae day and a large number of students have returned who will participate in the various events of the day. The Eury chorus concert in the evening will be one of the most delightful events of the week. The chorus of 45 young women will be assisted by the 30 young men of the Mount Hermon Glee club. This will be followed by a fete on Marquand field.

On Saturday evening at the auditorium there was held perhaps the most excellent sacred concert in the school's history. Fully 1,000 students of Mt. Hermon and the seminary were ably directed by N. P. Coffin in the chorus singing. The Mt. Hermon choir and vesper choir also sang. Piano and organ were presided over by Miss Richardson, Miss Haight, Miss Christensen, Miss Angel and Miss Tillinghast. Mr. Coffin's control of the voices was wonderful and the selections brought out the thorough training and variety of music in which they had been instructed.

Miss Ross has opened her summer home on Camp road.

Mrs. Julia White and sister, Miss Evelyn White, of New York are at their Ridge cottage.

Miss Helen McGregor of New York is a guest of Miss Esther Moody.

Miss Jean Brown of New York is here for the seminary commencement and a guest of Mrs. A. G. Moody.

John Marshall of Boston is here for the summer to assume his usual work in connection with the conferences.

Horace K. Brainard of Thompsonville, Conn., has arrived with his family at his summer home on Rustic ridge.

Miss Hazel Brooks has been a guest of Mrs. E. F. Howard several days. She will be a waitress at Hotel Northfield this summer.

Walter Fisher finished work as clerk for C. C. Stearns Saturday night. He has a position as brakeman on the Boston & Maine railroad.

Mrs. Ruth McLean Robinson and Miss Mary Robinson of Jamaica, Vt., are guests of Mrs. Henry McLean for commencement at the seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright arrived home Thursday evening from their wedding tour. They came from Boston by automobile with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kellogg.

Lincoln Hammon of Parker avenue, who has been in the lumber business in New York state several years, has bought the Ralph Stone farm on the Northfield road and will move his family there.

The Hermonite, the monthly magazine published by the Mount Hermon school and Northfield seminary, will from now on be a Hermon organ of news only. Northfield seminary is to have its own school paper.

The annual inspection of Company A, Boys' Brigade, will be held in Skinner gymnasium Friday evening, June 9, at 8 o'clock. Col. J. A. Cushman of Clinton, Mass., will inspect the brigade. A musical program will be rendered by the Mount Hermon orchestra.

Literary Note.

The interest in what has been termed bird gardening is reflected in the June issue of Bird-Lore which is devoted chiefly to account of experiences with the birds of our dooryards and descriptions of methods for attracting bird-guests.

There are numerous photographs of birds in nature, two full-page colored plates, a department for teachers, and one relating the activities of the Audubon societies of which Bird-Lore is the official organ.

HELD ON CHARGE OF SHOOTING BROTHER

Vermont in Fight at Home of Neighbors in Florence—Bullet Pierces Body of James.

RUTLAND, June 5.—Before several friends, who will probably appear against him when placed on trial, Vincenzo Verono, known as Frank Waldo of Florence, a marble worker, shot his brother, James Verono, through the lower abdomen with a 38-caliber revolver bullet, following a fistie encounter between the men yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bigno in Florence.

The would-be murderer then ran to the home of Harry Houston, where he hid under a bed, being found there an hour later by Constable James E. Tension of Pittsford, who brought the man to the house of correction in this city.

The injured man was treated by Dr. H. H. Swift of Pittsford soon after the shooting, which occurred about 5.30 o'clock, and he was later removed to the Proctor hospital, where it is said he had a chance to recover. The bullet passed through his body. A second shot fired by Verono at his brother did not take effect.

The men had been having some trouble before yesterday, but the exact cause of their differences is not known. It is supposed it is over family money matters. James, the injured man, is 30 years old, and his brother, six years younger. Neither had been drinking much.

About 3 o'clock the prisoner stepped at the home of Charles Rock in Florence and inquired for his brother, being informed that James was at the home of Joseph Bigno. The two had been in the house a short time together when it is claimed by witnesses, Frank started the trouble.

The men were ordered out, and after they reached the open air fists began to fly. Soon Frank was seen to grab his brother around the neck, holding him with one arm and drawing a revolver with the other, and shot him once through the body, and when he was falling the revolver was discharged again.

BOY MUST CONQUER HIMSELF

Breaking Lad's Will Spoils His Capabilities and Turns Success Into Bad Failure.

I am often asked by letter and otherwise how I get such wonderful results in the performance of high class music and almost perfect discipline. Here is one of the items from a long list: I never set out to break the will of a boy, as I sometimes hear teachers brag they do, but endeavor to strengthen his will. Breaking the will spoils a boy's capability, produces lassitude and turns what might have been a success into a miserable failure, writes J. B. Vanderwerker in Christian Advocate. A child with a broken will is sure to be sullen and stubborn, ill-mannered, miserably unhappy and either ends in the insane asylum or some kind of prison. May heaven have mercy upon the parent or teacher who knowingly sets out to break the will of any boy or girl.

Better that persons placed over boys and girls should try to teach self-mastery. But remember that self-mastery can be taught only by a person having self-mastery. Instead of conquering a child you had better, in a deft way—lest you fail—teach him to conquer himself, harness and bridle his will so that he can sit upon soft cushions and drive anywhere. For will power is like steam.

BEAN BAG BALL IS AMUSING

Player Who Throws Most Bags Into Basket Is Winner—Another Game Also Described.

A game called "bean bag ball" is played by suspending a basket by a rope from a doorway or some other place where it can swing freely. Place the first player at a certain distance from it and give him three or four bean bags, or as many as you have. Then pull the basket to a certain height and let it swing back. The player tries to throw the bean bags into the basket while it is swinging. He is allowed only a certain time, but within that time he can use the bean bags that have missed over again. (Someone else can pick them up for him.) The player who places most in the basket wins. It is well to remove your mother's best vase from the shelf near the doorway and to warn the members of the household against entering the room unexpectedly.

Another bean-bag game is to place the players in three groups. The first group throws to the last group and the group in between tries to catch the bean bags on the fly.

CHOICE OF THE OTHER BOY

Not Necessary to Tell Him to Take Largest Apple—He Would Do That Without Orders.

"Now, Tommy," said the Sunday school teacher, "suppose you had two apples and you gave another boy his choice of them, you would tell him to take the largest one, wouldn't you?" "No, ma'am," said Tommy promptly. "Why, Tommy?" exclaimed the teacher in shocked surprise. "Why not?"

"Well," said Tommy, "in dis bunch it wouldn't be necessary to tell him dat."
